

Dave Shields
Bio

Dave Shields is Director of Business Development for Lamart Corporation and has been involved with the adhesive compounding and coating industries for over 25 years. He has presented papers concerning pressure sensitive adhesives at numerous industrial and university symposiums, has been published in "Adhesive Age" magazine and has contributed to the National Business Forms Association Product Knowledge text. Dave received his Bachelors of Science degree from Marshall University.