

Harry R. Allcock – Bio

Harry R. Allcock is Evan Pugh Professor of Chemistry at Penn State. His research group has pioneered numerous pathways to new polymers based on the phosphazene platform. Many of these are of interest in the aerospace sector as non-burning elastomers, films, fibers, and coatings.