

William Gale received his B.S. from the University of Leeds in 1986. Following a Ph.D. and postdoc work at the University of Cambridge, he joined the faculty of Auburn University in 1992, where he currently holds an Alumni Professorship. Since 2004, Gale has been the Executive Director of the Air Transportation Center of Excellence for Airliner Cabin Environment Research (ACER), funded by the FAA's Office of Aerospace Medicine.