

Sonia Fereres is a PhD Candidate at the University of California at Berkeley, Department of Mechanical Engineering, working in the Combustion and Fire Processes Lab. She received a Aeronautical Engineering Degree from the Polytechnical University of Madrid, Spain and worked for 4+ years as a Maintenance Engineer and Systems Engineer at Industria de Turbo Propulsores, S.A., a Spanish aeronautical engine and gas turbine manufacturer, including one year in a joint project at General Electric Aircraft Engines, Cincinnati, Ohio.