

Environmental Regulation of Fire Protection Agents

This presentation will review existing and proposed environmental regulations that have the potential to impact the special hazard fire protection agents used in civil aviation. Topics will include international climate change negotiations, proposed climate change legislation in the US Congress, EU F-gas regulations, update of the EU halon critical use list, and proposals to add HFCs to the Montreal Protocol and slowly phase down their production.