Ken Bell

Employed by the Sensors and Integrated Systems (a United Technologies Aerospace Systems company and formerly Kidde Aerospace, Wilson, NC) since 1998. Responsible for design engineering of aircraft fire detection systems, particularly smoke detection systems.