

Brian Y. Lattimer, Ph.D.

Biography

Dr. Lattimer is an associate professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Virginia Tech where he performs computational and experimental research on the thermal and structural response of materials at high temperatures. Dr. Lattimer received his Ph.D. in Mechanical Engineering from Virginia Tech in 1996 and worked for the international fire protection consulting firm Hughes Associates, Inc. for 11 years prior to joining Virginia Tech as a faculty member. Dr. Lattimer has authored over 90 technical articles on this work.