

Sergei Levchik is an R&D Director for ICL-IP, America (Israel Chemical Ltd.) one of the major producers of flame-retardants. From 1992 to 1996 Sergei held postdoctoral positions at University of Torino and at Polytechnic of New York. Sergei was a Senior Scientist and Group Leader at Belarussian University prior to moving to the USA in 1997. Since 1987, he has been involved in projects on flame retardancy of polymers. He published 3 books, more than 100 technical papers and 30 reviews and book chapters.