

Gregory T. Linteris, Ph.D.

Bio.

Dr. Linteris has an undergraduate degree in Chemical Engineering from Princeton University, a master's degree in Mechanical Design from Stanford University, and master's and Ph.D. degrees in Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering from Princeton. He is currently a Senior Research Staff member at the National Institute of Standards and Technology, where he studies material flammability, and the chemistry of fire suppressants and flame retardants. He has also been an adjunct professor at the Johns Hopkins University.