

Amanda Daly is a Senior Electrical Engineer at Kidde Fire Protection Systems at Collins Aerospace. Since starting at Kidde in 2013, Amanda has been working in the field of smoke detection, and currently she is the project lead for the smoke detection team. Amanda graduated with a BSE in Electrical and Computer Engineering from Duke University in 2009.