

Hisashi Kinoshita is the Deputy Director of the Iida Industrial Technology Testing Laboratory, which is annexed to S-Bird(Note *1), an "Industrial Promotion and Human resource development base" in Iida City, Nagano, Japan.

Since joined to the Iida City Office in 1988, he has been in charge of measurement, analysis, and EMC testing, and has been providing Japanese private companies with the technical supports. Since 2016, we have been starting test operations and technical guidance for environmental testing as like Icing test, Explosion-proof test, Flammability test, Temperature variation test, Vibration and Shock test. He is a member of Fire Safety Meeting from 2017.

(Note *1) S-Bird is a collaborative Environmental Test facilities established by the South Shinshu Wide Area Union, Nagano Prefecture General Industrial Technology Center, Shinshu University, Minami Shinshu-Iida Industrial Center to add the higher value of future mobility product development.