Stephen Trent
Boeing

Stephen Trent is an environmental engineer with seven years' experience in the aviation industry. He works in the Cabin Environment/Air Quality group within Environmental Control Systems in Boeing Commercial Airplanes. Stephen has experience with filtration, catalysis, air purification, detection, measurements, ventilation & modeling of the airplane cabin environment and participates in industry committees within SAE including E-31, AC-9, and AC-9M and is the vice-chair of ASHRAE Standard 161 & T.C. 9.3.